Your brand has a story. Let's figure it out together.

Not corporate. Not "girl boss." Not agency jargon. Not "leave it to me, I'll handle everything." More of — a thoughtful creative partner who helps you say the right things, to the right people, in a way that actually sounds like you.

Hi, I'm Yashitha. Professional overthinker, creative partner by choice.

Over the last five years, I've worked with 250+ brands across wellness, food, fashion, education, hospitality, retail and everything in between.

I've written captions at midnight, planned launches over coffee, built websites from scratch, and spent an unreasonable amount of time choosing between two shades of beige. Because details matter. And because every brand deserves more than generic marketing advice copied off the internet.

250+ brands. 5+ years. One slightly obsessive love for good branding.

— OUR APPROACH

No, you don't have to hand over your passwords and disappear.

One of the biggest myths in marketing is that you hire someone, step away, and everything magically works. If only. The best results happen when both sides show up — you know your business better than anyone, I know how to turn that knowledge into stories, strategies and content people actually care about.

You bring

- * Deep knowledge of your business
- * The real story behind the brand
- * Honest feedback & a willingness to show up

I'll bring

- ✦ Strategy & clear creative direction
- ✦ Storytelling that sounds like you
- ✦ The occasional (useful) over-analysis

Together, we'll build something meaningful.

Things I can help you stop stressing about.

If it involves building a brand people remember, we're probably going to get along.

01

Social Media Strategy & Management

The kind of social presence people stop scrolling for — strategy, planning, and content that earns attention instead of begging for it.

Working together, made genuinely easy.

Four steps, zero radio silence. Here's how a partnership actually unfolds.

01

Discovery

We start with a conversation. Your goals, your brand, what's working and what's quietly driving you mad.

02

Planning

I turn that into a clear strategy — positioning, direction, and a plan you can actually picture.

03

Execution

Content, copy, design direction, websites — built collaboratively, with quick feedback loops.

04

Support

We track what's working, fix what isn't, and keep refining. Good branding is hundreds of tiny decisions.

Things people have said about working with me.

More than anything, I appreciate her work ethic, her commitment, and the genuine effort she puts into helping the brand grow.

Harini

The Journal Lab

From the very first brief, she demonstrated a strong grasp of our business objectives and quickly translated them into compelling visual stories. Her attention to detail, editing finesse, and creative judgment brought a high level of polish to every final output.

Saravanan Ramdoss

Founder, SalesFlowX

She is incredibly easy to work with. Throughout the process, including during the video shoot, Yashitha was understanding, patient, and proactive. She introduced unique ideas and walked us through unfamiliar processes, making everything feel seamless and manageable.

Athrukshna

Bridgewoods International

— WHY WORK WITH US

Because someone has to care about the tiny things.

The caption. The font. The colour palette. The button placement. The way your website feels. The reason people follow. The reason they stay.

Good branding isn't one big moment. It's hundreds of tiny decisions that quietly work together. I just happen to enjoy thinking about those decisions more than most people.

LET'S BEGIN

Let's build something worth talking about.

Not because it's trendy. Not because everyone else is doing it. But because it genuinely reflects who you are and what your business stands for. No jargon. No unnecessary buzzwords. Just thoughtful strategy, creative storytelling, and a collaborative process that actually makes sense.

Cups of coffee

This definitely wasn't the plan.

I was supposed to be a psychologist. Degree? Done. Higher studies abroad? Planned. Life? Sorted.

Then COVID happened and, like most plans in 2020, mine quietly packed its bags and left. While I was home trying to figure out what came next, my family offered me a deal: "Learn something useful and we'll get you a laptop and a new phone."

Now, I wish I could tell you I had some grand vision for my future. I didn't. I simply wanted the laptop. So I signed up for a graphic design course.

One course became a job. One job became a career nobody saw coming — least of all me.

What was supposed to be a temporary way to spend a few months somehow turned into a career. I found myself working on content, branding, strategy, websites, marketing, client management and operations. I went from designing posts to sitting in rooms where real business decisions were being made.

Over the years, I had a front-row seat to businesses of all shapes and sizes. I worked closely with founders, watched brands grow, learned how teams function, and discovered what actually happens behind the scenes of successful businesses.

And somewhere in the middle of all that, I realised something. I may not have become a psychologist. But I never stopped studying people. Today, I just do it through brands — through the stories they tell, the way they communicate, the way people connect with them, and the reasons customers choose them.

Great marketing isn't really about algorithms, trends, or posting every day. It's about understanding people.

Funny how I ended up using my psychology degree after all.

Eventually, there came a point where I stopped asking, "Could I do this on my own?" And started asking, "Why not?" So I did.

Now I help brands find their voice, tell better stories, and build a presence that feels less like marketing and more like a genuine connection.

A few things I genuinely believe.

People over algorithms

Trends change weekly. Human psychology doesn't. I build for the people behind the metrics.

Details are the brand

The font, the spacing, the tone of one caption. Quality lives in decisions most people never notice.

Collaboration, not handover

You know your business. I know how to tell its story. The best work happens when both of us show up.

THAT'S THE SHORT VERSION

The long version involves a lot of coffee.

Several existential crises about font pairing, and a genuine belief that every brand has a story worth telling properly. If yours is ready to be told, I'd love to hear it.

Things I can help you stop stressing about.

Pick a starting point — or tell me what's keeping you up at night and we'll work out the rest together.

01

Social Media Strategy & Management

For brands that want more than random posts and trending audio.

- ✓ Content strategy
- ✓ Monthly content planning
- ✓ Feed aesthetics & visual direction
- ✓ Static posts & carousel design
- ✓ Reels concepts & scripting
- ✓ Caption writing
- ✓ Content calendars
- ✓ Community engagement guidance
- ✓ Tracking what's working (and fixing what's not)

Basically, the kind of social presence people stop scrolling for.

Brand Positioning & Content Strategy

Before creating content, we figure out what your brand should stand for.

✓ Brand voice development

✓ Audience mapping

✓ Content pillars

✓ Messaging strategy

✓ Competitor analysis

✓ Campaign ideation

✓ Launch planning

Because content without direction is just noise with good lighting.

Website Content & Development

Websites that say the right things, not just look good doing it.

- ✓ Website strategy
- ✓ Sitemap planning
- ✓ Search-friendly website copy
- ✓ Home page content
- ✓ About page content
- ✓ Service pages
- ✓ Product descriptions
- ✓ Website design direction
- ✓ Working alongside your developer or platform

A website should feel like the best version of a first conversation with your brand.

Branding & Creative Direction

For brands that need a cohesive identity across platforms.

- ✓ Brand moodboards
- ✓ Visual identity direction
- ✓ Logo ideation
- ✓ Colour palette selection
- ✓ Typography recommendations
- ✓ Packaging concepts
- ✓ Creative campaign direction
- ✓ Brand guidelines

So every touchpoint feels like it belongs to the same brand.

Content Creation & Copywriting

Words matter. A lot.

✓ Social media captions

✓ Website copy

✓ Product descriptions

✓ Email campaigns

✓ Reels scripts

✓ Founder stories

✓ Launch content

✓ Blog articles

✓ Ad copy

Because nobody falls in love with a brand that sounds like everyone else.

Marketing Consultation

Sometimes you don't need an agency. You just need clarity.

✓ Strategy calls

✓ Brand audits

✓ Content audits

✓ Growth recommendations

✓ Campaign brainstorming

✓ A clear plan forward

One conversation can save you months of second-guessing.

NOT SURE WHICH ONE?

That's a perfectly normal place to start.

Tell me what you're trying to achieve and we'll figure out the right fit together — no pressure, no jargon.

FAQ

Questions people usually ask before saying yes.

If yours isn't here, that's what the contact form is for.

What kind of brands do you work with?

Mostly small to mid-sized businesses and founders who care about getting it right — wellness, food and beverage, fashion, interiors, hospitality, education, and a fair bit of B2B. If your brand has a story worth telling, we're probably a good fit.

Do you only do social media, or more than that?

More than that. Social is often where people start, but the work usually grows into positioning, website content, branding direction, or full campaigns. Think of social as the entry point, not the ceiling.

How involved do I need to be?

More than "hand it over and disappear," less than "do it yourself with extra steps." You know your business better than anyone — I just need enough access to that knowledge to turn it into strategy and content. Expect a few calls, some quick feedback loops, and zero radio silence from either side.

How long does a project usually take?

Depends on scope. A content calendar or campaign can move in 1–2 weeks. Brand positioning, websites, or full rebrands usually take longer — 4 to 8 weeks isn't unusual, depending on how many rounds of feedback we go through.

Do you work with brands outside India?

Yes. Several past projects have been for international audiences and bilingual markets, so distance or language isn't a dealbreaker.

What do you need from me to get started?

A clear sense of what you're trying to achieve, access to whatever brand materials already exist (even messy ones), and a willingness to answer questions you didn't expect to be asked. The rest, we figure out together.

How does pricing work?

It depends on scope — a single campaign looks very different from an ongoing retainer. The best next step is a quick call so I can understand what you actually need before throwing numbers around.

What if I just need advice, not a full project?

That's what the Marketing Consultation service is for. Sometimes a clear-headed conversation is worth more than a 12-page strategy deck.

Do you sign NDAs or contracts?

Yes, always. Clear agreements make for better working relationships, not worse ones.

What if we start working together and it's not the right fit?

Then we have an honest conversation about it. That's rare, but it happens, and pretending otherwise helps no one.

STILL HAVE QUESTIONS?

Reasonable. Let's talk it through.

No forms that feel like tax documents — just a quick conversation to see where to begin.
